Local History

Macquarie Regional Library has a collection of research material housed in the Local Studies Rooms located in the Dubbo and Narromine libraries.

Each library also holds a core collection of reference materials relating to the history of that region.

Donations

The library is continuing to develop the Local Studies Collection. If you have materials that relate to the history of the region which you would like to donate to the library please contact the library on 02 6801 4501.
